February 2012

Manholes

Normally we bikers try to avoid crossing manhole covers on bends and at junctions, however we were contacted first by ITV, then by the BBC to take part in short films regarding the theft of Inspection covers and gully grids.

So on a blustery day in early January ITV filmed Debz and Nige riding over the first anti-skid Inspection cover installed by North Somerset CC.

Later in January the BBC filmed Nige and Bill riding over the same cover, both times Debz did us proud being interviewed on biker's views of these covers.

It is to be hoped that more of these covers will replace the old traditional cast iron covers.

But as the county councils do not own all the covers we now need to pour pressure onto the utility companies to follow suit.

GWR Rally

The GWR rally committee has had its first meeting, and progress is already being made towards another fantastic rally to follow last year's highly successful rally.

There will have to be one or two tweaks to how the rally was run last year due to lessons learned from the new site.
